DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AFFAIRS

INTRODUCTION

The State of Florida, Department of Military Affairs, formerly the Military Department, is a State agency created by Chapter 250, Florida Statutes and composed of the military force provided for in the laws of the State of Florida. The name of the Department was changed by the Reorganization Act of 1969. The Florida National Guard is provided for by Section 2, Article X of the Constitution and Chapter 250.08 of the Florida Statutes. The National Guard of the United States is provided for by Title 32, U. S. Code.

The Governor is Commander in Chief of the Florida National Guard. The Adjutant General is Chief of the Department and Commanding General of the Florida Army and Air National Guard. There is an Assistant Adjutant General who is also Assistant Adjutant General for Army, an Assistant Adjutant General for Air and a directorate staff organization in the Headquarters. (Appendix I, Organizational Chart.)

The troop structure of the Florida National Guard is composed of the Florida Army National Guard and Florida Air National Guard. The Army National Guard consists of an Infantry Brigade, commanded by a Brigadier General; and, non-divisional units grouped under the Emergency Operation Headquarters, FARNG, commanded by a Brigadier General. (Appendix III, Organization-Florida Army National Guard.) The Florida Air National Guard consists of a Fighter Group commanded by a Colonel. (Appendix IV, Organization-Florida Air National Guard.)

MISSION

The Florida National Guard, both Army and Air, has a dual mission.

(1) A State mission, to provide military organizations trained and equipped to function when necessary in the protection of life and property, and in the preservation of peace, order and the public safety, as directed by competent State authority; and,

(2) A Federal mission, as Reserve components of the Army and Air Force of the United States, to provide trained and qualified individuals available for Federal service in time of war or national emergency, or at such other times as the national security may require augmentation of the United States armed forces.

In addition to their State and Federal mission, the Florida Air National Guard has the sole air defense mission for the eastern seaboard of the United States, from Charleston, South Carolina to Key West, Florida. This aerospace mission involves the maintenance of four F-102 fighters and crew on a twenty-four hour alert status, armed and ready for immediate commitment to intercept unidentified aircraft in or approaching the air space of the United States.

SUMMARY

The major state-wide reorganization of the Florida Army National Guard, as reflected in the preceding report, was culminated during calendar year 1969. Noteworthy strides were made in the retraining of the many units reorganized and redesignated incident to the state-wide reorganization, as is evidenced by training reports and by the number of units having successfully completed their Army Training Tests (ATT's) during annual field training, calendar year 1969. With a few minor exceptions, the troop structure of the Florida Army National Guard remained unchanged during the calendar year. Unit strengths have been maintained, prescribed training objectives have been attained and recruiting efforts have been satisfactory. Branch and technical training of both officer and enlisted personnel has continued on a high level through the medium of the educational facilities of the Regular Establishment, contributing largely to the successful retraining of personnel experiencing branch changes during the 1968 reorganization. Minor changes were made in Unit Category Codes, and requirements met in the many adjustments in the area of Military Occupation Specialities created through Department of the Army changes to Tables of Organization.

The Florida Air National Guard was reorganized during the calendar year, with the activation of the 125th Civil Engineering Flight on 16 November 1969 at Jacksonville International Airport, Jacksonville, and assigned to the 125th Fighter Group. The 125th Fighter Group continues to maintain its high level of training and national standing, and to perform its air defense mission with distinction.

Fiscal matters, both State and Federal, remain on a sound basis, continued new construction and expansion of facilities remains in evidence, and the dedicated efforts of the commands have been most gratifying. Each and every member of the Florida National Guard, Army and Air, can take great pride in our continued advancement in all areas, as well as our national standing.

On 31 July 1969, Brigadier General Ralph C. Davis, Commanding General, 53rd Infantry Brigade, retired and Brigadier General George H. Dale assumed command of the Brigade on 1 August 1969.

Major General Robert A. Ballard, Commanding General, Emergency Operation Headquarters, FARNG, retired on 5 October 1969, and Brigadier General Charles J. Kaniss assumed the position of Commanding General on 6 October 1969.

ORGANIZATION

Although only minor changes were experienced in the troop structure of the Florida National Guard during the calendar year, there were several organizational changes of marked importance. On 1 March 1969 Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, FARNG and Headquarters and Headquarters Company, Emergency Operation Headquarters, FARNG were reorganized under Department of the Army Tables of Distribution, and on 10 March 1969 Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Camp Blanding, FARNG was allocated to the State of Florida and was activated at the Camp Blanding Military Reservation, with assigned mission of operational control and support of that training site during year round MUTA's and annual field training, for operation of the newly constructed Air Defense Artillery Range which was officially designated on 5 May 1969 and the "Camp Blanding Air Defense Artillery Range for the Third U. S. Army Area", and for year round operation of the Annual Field Training Equipment Pool established at that site for support of the Air Defense Artillery Range. On 1 July 1969, the Command Structure of the Florida Army National Guard was adjusted to provide for one Headquarters Command; Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, FARNG, and for two Troop Commands; 53rd Infantry Brigade (Separate) and Headquarters and Headquarters Company, Emergency Operation Headquarters, FARNG, with each separate Command being made duly responsible to the State Adjutant General for the overall training and administrative and logistical support of their respective Commands. The mission of overall training supervision, formerly assigned to the Emergency Operation Headquarters, was reinvested in the Adjutant General. (Appendix III, Organization - Florida Army National Guard.)

On 30 September 1969, it having been determined by Department of the Army that improvement in the readiness of the Reserve Components through the reorganization of 1968 eliminated the requirement for a "Selected Reserve Force" entity within the Reserve Component Force Structure, all such units were relieved of their Selective Reserve Force Training Mission.

The 125th Fighter Group was reorganized on 16 November 1969 with the addition of the 125th Civil Engineering Flight.

The 35th Surgical Hospital, which was ordered to active duty in May, 1968 in connection with the Viet Nam war, was returned to the State of Florida and reverted to State control 0001 EST, 2 December 1969, redesignated and reorganized as the 853rd Supply and Service Company (DS). While on active duty, the 35th Surgical Hospital was stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia. The Hospital as a whole did not serve in the combat area, however, the individuals served with other units in Viet Nam and Korea.

The former 53rd Quartermaster Platoon was reorganized and redesignated as the 753rd Transportation Detachment (Med Trk, Refr).

As of the time of writing of this report, plans have been initiated by Chief, National Guard Bureau for the reorganization of certain units in the Army National Guard structure under new Modified Tables of Organization (MTOE), with Infantry and Mechanized Infantry Units scheduled for reorganization on or about 1 January 1970.

EMPLOYEES

There are 825 individuals, civilian and military, employed by the Department of Military Affairs. These employees work either directly with the Headquarters, Department of Military Affairs or National Guard units in the field, supporting approximately 9,000 Guardsmen assigned to the Florida National Guard. (Appendix II, Organization, State of Florida, Department of Military Affairs.) There are 99 Career Service personnel of the State of Florida, employed under the rules and regulations of the State of Florida Personnel Board, and 726 Federal technicians employed under the rules and regulations of the U. S. Civil Service Commission. These employees are specialists in the field of administration, finance, accounting, supply and maintenance. With the exception of a limited number of female employees, personnel are required to be military members of the various organizations and units to which assigned. (Fiscal data, Appendixes VII and VIII.)

On 1 January 1969, Public Law 90-486 provided for employees paid from Federal funds to participate in the Civil Service Retirement Program.

ARMORY BOARD, STATE OF FLORIDA

The Armory Board, State of Florida, is established as provided by Section 250.40, Florida Statutes, and consisting of the Governor, the Adjutant General, the State Quartermaster, the General Officers of the Line, Group Commanders, and the Senior Air Commander of the active Florida National Guard, provides general supervision and control of real properties utilized by the Florida National Guard. This Board met during the year to consider plans for construction, alteration, rental, maintenance, and management of National Guard armories, other facilities and real properties utilized by the Florida National Guard.

The Armory Board is responsible for and controls forest management, mineral exploitation, game and fish propagation programs and the maintenance and improvement of the former Federal lands at Camp Blanding, with the approval of the U. S. Government. (A detail of the organization of the Armory Board, State of Florida, is shown in Appendix V.)

The National Guard, as a joint effort of the Federal, State and local governments, has taken its place as a major component in the defense of our Nation, State and local communities through this mutual support. The Armory Board reemphasized its policy, during the year, that National Guard armories be utilized by the citizenry of the community to the fullest extent possible, where such use is not to the detriment of public interest and does not interfere materially with the primary use of armories for the housing and training of military units stationed therein. The Armory Board further cooperated with the armed services, State agencies and organizations by providing facilities at Camp Blanding for use in training, rifle marksmanship, instruction, etc.

ARMORIES

There are fifty-one National Guard armories strategically located in cities throughout the State, from Pensacola on the west to Jacksonville on the northeast and Fort Myers and Homestead on the south. (Locations and property values are reflected in Appendix VI.)

During the year, construction was completed on a new one (1) unit armory at Arcadia, Florida. The new armory has been occupied by the unit of the Florida National Guard in that city, subsequently vacating and returning to the owner, the old inadequate facilities. The new armory is a most attractive building, of which the community can be justly proud.

Renovation of the Maxwell C. Snyder Armory in Jacksonville was completed during the year.

Work consisting of heating supply rooms, heating and air-conditioning administrative offices, installation of accoustical ceilings in the drill hall and administrative offices, and electrical work was accomplished in the Tallahassee Armory during the year.

A new Army Aviation Maintenance Shop was constructed and occupied at Craig Field, Jacksonville, during the year. This is a unique facility, first of its kind in the United States for Army National Guard Aviation Maintenance, and consists of a hangar shop with all supporting interior and exterior facilities to adequately maintain Army aircraft assigned to the Florida National Guard. The facility cost $423,458 and construction was supported 100% by Federal funds.

In addition to the aforementioned major projects, fencing, paving, repair and renovation projects were accomplished.

The Armory Board adopted a resolution to name the new Arcadia National Guard Armory in honor of Brigadier General S. C. Smith (Retired), deceased, a distinguished Guardsman, former Honorary Post Commander of Arcadia and former Florida legislator.

The National Guard Armory at Bradenton is an old armory building and the city requests return of the property, refusing to renew a long term lease, thereby requiring the Armory Board to secure a new facility. State funds were appropriated by the 1969 Legislature and Federal matching funds were made available by the National Guard Bureau for the construction of a new armory. Planning is presently underway and it is anticipated that construction will take place during calendar year 1970.

Federal matching funds have been programmed as the Federal share for construction of a new National Guard armory at Avon Park, Florida. If State matching funds are made available for this project, construction could be accomplished, relieving a serious inadequacy, as the present facility is old and repairs would be more extensive than would be practical to accomplish.

FACILITIES

State Arsenal

The State Arsenal is one of the oldest buildings in St. Augustine. It is the Headquarters for the Department of Military Affairs and the Florida National Guard. This four hundred year old facility was formerly the site of the Franciscan Monastery constructed in 1588. It was converted to a military barracks by the British in 1763; from 1783 to 1821 a Spanish garrison; 1821 to 1900 a U. S. Army Post. In 1907 the Headquarters of the Department of Military Affairs and the Florida National Guard was established here. Normal repairs and maintenance are performed in such a manner as to preserve the historic aspects of the facilities, insofar as is feasible.

Air National Guard Base

The Florida Air National Guard base located at the Jacksonville International Airport is the home of the Florida Air National Guard. The 168 acre complex consists of 19 buildings containing 188,000 square

Administrative Bivouac Areas with shower and latrine facilities are now available for both weekend training and annual field training, and for the first time since WWII Camp Blanding now has a newly constructed Post Chapel, fully equipped and available to all denominations.

Camp Blanding with its established drop zone, rappelling tower, and fine jungle type training areas, continues to be the home training site of Florida National Guard Special Forces Elements, and official home of the Florida National Guard's own Officer Candidate School where, personnel of the Army National Guard train to become commissioned officers. Small Arms Ranges at Camp Blanding continue to be used for National Guard sponsored Rifle Matches, as well as those sponsored by the Camp Blanding Rifle and Pistol Club, with 1,725 man-days being devoted to such matches during the calendar year.

Camp Blanding facilities continue to be used by the United States Property and Fiscal Officer for the receipt, storage and issuance of Federal properties utilized by elements of the Florida Army National Guard, and remains the site of the Florida National Guard Combined Support Maintenance Shops with continued mission of maintenance of Federal equipment allocated to the Florida National Guard, and the furnishing of field maintenance to vehicles and generators of Headquarters, United States STRIKE Command, MacDill Air Force Base, Tampa.

Active and Reserve Forces

Organizations of the Regular Establishment; Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps, as well as elements of the Reserve Forces, continue to use Camp Blanding extensively for training. During the calendar year, 23,637 man-days were spent in training exercises by such organizations.

The U. S. Atlantic Fleet, Fleet Air, Naval Air Station, Jacksonville continues to maintain its leased portion of the Reservation which is utilized for the training of their pilots, to include carrier based personnel, in air-to-ground bombing and strafing, and for the operation of their Radar Scoring Station.

Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission

The agreement between the Armory Board and the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, whereby portions of Camp Blanding are opened to controlled public hunting and fishing, remains in effect. Controlled burning and grain planting has been most favorable in production of game. Lake sampling indicated that stocked fish in certain lakes have done well in most instances.

Forest Management Operation

The Armory Board still conducts the Forest Management Program at Camp Blanding. During the year, several miles of road were constructed enabling access into areas heretofore inaccessible. Harvesting and re-planting of timber continues as conditions permit under the supervision of a professional forester.

Mining Operations

E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company continues to mine on one portion of Camp Blanding, with ilmenite still the principal mineral mined in this area. In mid 1968, one of the mining operations moved from Camp Blanding lands to fulfill a previous mining commitment. This has resulted in a substantial decrease in revenue to this Department.

Construction

Utilizing Federal training site funds authorized for opening, operating and closing costs, in connection with annual field training at Camp Blanding, a great deal of renovation has been accomplished. This work included road repairs, paving and construction of out-door latrines and showers. Several buildings utilized by National Guard troops in the cantonment area were renovated.

The Federal Government has made available to the State of Florida $133,000 for the construction of an Annual Field Training Equipment Pool maintenance building and vehicle equipment storage building at Camp Blanding, in support of the Air Defense Artillery training facility there. It is anticipated this facility will be completed in calendar year 1971.

Chapel

J. Lewis Reynolds, of Reynolds Metal Company, donated to the Armory Board, for use at Camp Blanding, an old military chapel located at the former Naval Air Station, Green Cove Springs, Florida. The Armory Board had the chapel moved in sections to Camp Blanding, re-erected and refinished. The Chief of Chaplains of the Army provided funds for refurbishing the interior of the chapel and this work is expected to be completed by early 1970. A chapel was sorely needed at Camp Blanding and when completed, it is going to be an attractive and impressive addition, available for use by troops in training, commencing with annual field training 1970.

STATE FUNDS

Appropriated Funds

Disbursements of General Revenue Funds are based on appropriations made by the Florida State Legislature and are reflected in Appendix VII.

Service Contracts

The Federal Government and the Armory Board have cost-sharing contracts for the maintenance and operation of certain facilities of the Florida National Guard. The Army Service Contract, which covers the Arsenal Annex, portions of Camp Blanding, the Army Aviation Maintenance Shop and sixteen (16) organizational maintenance shops, provides for a Federal share of 75% and Armory Board share of 25%. The Air Service

Contract, which covers the Air National Guard Base at Jacksonville, provides for a Federal share of 80% and Armory Board share of 20%. Annual field training site and weekend training site activities of the Florida National Guard are 100% Federally funded.

Budget Requests

The requests for operating funds for the coming year, by the Department of Military Affairs, are printed in Appendix VII.

Inter-Service Agreements

Under current policies of the Federal Government, the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, and the Reserve Forces, including the National Guard, furnish mutual logistical support on a reimbursable basis, whenever such support is requested and is within the capability of the requested agency. This policy is of appreciable value to the taxpayer in that it reduces duplication of supply and maintenance facilities. In keeping with this policy the Florida National Guard has entered into a number of interservice agreements during the past year. These agreements go beyond the traditional support furnished by the active services to the National Guard, in that they also include support to the active forces by the National Guard. This state currently has working agreements with Aniston Army Depot, Atlanta Army Depot, Fort Stewart, Georgia, Jacksonville Naval Air Station, Patrick Air Force Base, Homestead Air Force Base, MacDill Air Force Base, United States STRIKE Command, Tyndall Air Force Base, Eglin Air Force Base and Pensacola Naval Air Station. Agreements with each of the above activities are tailor-made, and include such support to the National Guard as repair of aircraft, calibration of instruments, supply of medical items, supply of subsistence, and laundry service. Florida National Guard return support includes supply of gasoline within the State to active Army, the US Army Reserve, US Marine Corps Recruiting Station, US Air Force Recruiting Station, and the US Navy Recruiting Station, along with complete responsibility for repair of vehicles, weapons, and other items of the United States STRIKE Command; and, the periodic temporary loan of vehicles, weapons, and other equipment to STRIKE Command, the active Army, the USAR, and the USMCR for special training missions.

DATA PROCESSING

The Department of Military Affairs, like many other agencies, is utilizing an automatic data processing system.

The State program serves the requirements of the Administration, State Quartermaster and Military Personnel Directorates.

The Federal program has automated the fields of logistics, fiscal accounting and civilian technician records and the Civil Service payroll. During the past year, the program for maintaining military personnel records, both officer and enlisted, tested and proven by personnel of the Florida National Guard, was accepted and implemented nationwide by the National Guard Bureau.

ADMINISTRATION

Administrative and staff services were provided to the Headquarters and the units of the Florida National Guard. These services included public affairs, records administration, mail management, distribution of Department of the Army publications, reproductions, awards and trophies, communications and security files.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT

The Department's Archives and Records Administration Program insures uniform procedures governing maintenance and disposition of records and the preserving of historical documents. Permanent records are microfilmed to reduce storage space.

COMMUNICATIONS

This Headquarters maintains a reliable communication system using the following means:

Commerical Telephone. A console (switchboard) providing external and internal communication equipped with a radio telephone patch capability.

Defense Communications Automatic Voice Switching Network (AUTOVON). A military worldwide general purpose dialing system providing the capability of immediate communication with other military installations.

Landline Teletype. A teletype network providing the capability to transmit and receive written messages.

National Warning System (NAWAS). A voice circuit emanating from North American Air Defense Command (NORAD), Colorado Springs, Colorado, the objective of which is to establish, operate and maintain an effective nationwide warning system to alert governments and the public to the threat of extraordinary dangers.

Command State Emergency Radio Net (COMSERN). A Florida National Guard radio net providing radio communication with Florida National Guard Task Force Headquarters strategically located throughout the state.

Florida Highway Patrol Radio Network. A network providing radio communication with state law enforcement agencies.

These communication systems when integrated provide continuous reliable communications under all conditions. To insure continuous communication with this Headquarters, a staff officer is on duty twenty-four hours daily.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The "Florida Guardsman" magazine, a four page monthly insert in "The National Guardsman" is utilized to maintain a high level of morale and to promote esprit de corps. This magazine is subscribed to by Florida National Guardsmen.

An illustrated narrative briefing of the Florida National Guard continues to be an excellent method of furthering the understanding of civil authorities, civic organizations and other groups throughout the State of the organization, responsibilities and mission of the Department of Military Affairs.

The history of the State Arsenal and the Military Reservation dates back to the 16th century when it was the site of a Franciscan Monastery. In order to preserve and record this unique history a museum and archives is maintained. The museum is aptly located in the former monastery cells and endeavors to tell the story of the Florida National Guard and the militia from territorial days to the present. Historical documents and artifact contributed by Guardsmen, former Guardsmen and citizens have resulted in a collection of many historical items that would have otherwise become lost to posterity.

SERVICE RECORDS

The Department has custody of available records of the soldiers of Florida. These records include Muster Rolls of the Indian Wars of 1835, Muster Rolls of the Florida Militia and Florida National Guard since 1835, and Rolls of the Florida troops mustered into the Confederate Forces and Union Forces in the War Between the States (Civil War), the Spanish American War, the Mexican Border Incident, World War I, World War II, the Korean Conflict, and the Berlin Crisis. A card record is maintained for each individual who entered World War I from the State of Florida, whether by enlistment, induction through Selective Service, or induction with the Florida National Guard. In addition, an individual file folder, containing copies of all pertinent orders and personnel documents, is retained for each individual who has been a member of the Florida National Guard (Army and Air). The individual folders for current members are separated from the folders of former members and are maintained current at all times. These records occupy approximately 1,000 feet of shelf filing space. Requests for Statements of Service and information generally fall into two broad categories. The majority of requests in the first category are for documentary evidence to establish eligibility for some type of benefit such as Federal or State military retirement benefits; birth date and/or active Federal service for Social Security benefits; increased military longevity pay for former service; burial in a National Cemetery or government furnished grave marker; or hospitalization or other financial benefits through the Veterans Administration. The second category pertains to requests in the interest of genealogy or history and, for the most part, are applicable to records prior to 1900.

The number of Statements of Service furnished during the period of this report was 734 of which 288 were for advanced certification of completion of 20 years of active service which would entitle the individual to Federal retired pay for military service upon attaining age 60. This is a new requirement which was instituted to eliminate errors and misinformation which previously would not appear until individual reached age 60 at which time he would discover that some of his service did not meet this criteria and it was too late to perform additional service to meet the requirements for Federal retired pay.

MILITARY SUPPORT OF CIVIL AUTHORITY

General

The Adjutant General is responsible for the coordination of pre-attack planning and postattack operations in support of Civil Defense by all military forces within the State. Five (5) Federally paid technicians were provided in 1965 to plan and supervise this program. These technicians were grouped and formed the Military Support of Civil Authority Directorate. The duties of the Directorate has since been expanded, with Federal approval, to encompass State missions such as civil disturbances and natural disasters in support of civil authorities. Emergency radio communication is a responsibility of this Directorate.

Planning and Coordination

The Military Support of Civil Defense Plan was published in final form in 1969. Coordinating visits were made to both active and reserve military installations and units throughout the State. Close coordination has also been maintained with Civil Defense officials and law enforcement agencies. Changes in liaison concepts for actual operations have been implemented. Studies and contacts were made with the State of Mississippi on operations during hurricane Camille to improve plans for such disasters.

Emergency Operations Center

An Emergency Operations Center (EOC) was established at this Headquarters. This EOC is equipped with the communications, data and information to direct, supervise and coordinate National Guard participation in emergencies State-wide. A mobile command post and communications center was designed and built to provide greater flexibility. Single side band (SSB) radio equipment was purchased from available funds and placed in armories throughout the State. This equipment provides reliable communications from the EOC to the base stations. In addition to the mobile command post, three (3) sedans and three (3) aircraft are equipped with the SSB radios to provide communications with remote areas and with personnel in transit. A NAWAS line was installed in the EOC which provides hot line communications with the Governor, Civil Defense, and various sheriffs and police.

Immediately upon threat of natural disaster, civil disturbance or similar emergencies anywhere in the State, the EOC is activated with a nucleus of key personnel to monitor the situation. Additional personnel are brought in as necessary and the EOC is fully manned with the order of troops to State duty. Should the emergency arise without prior warning, the EOC can be manned and operational in a matter of minutes. Key personnel are dispatched to potential emergency areas based upon the analysis of the situation made in coordination with local officials.

Commanders of troop units throughout the State maintain close liaison with civil authorities and channel information to the EOC in the Department of Military Affairs which is used as a basis for forecasting potential problem areas. Units and troops are placed in various stages of alert dependent upon reported situations.

FLORIDA NATIONAL GUARD OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL

The Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School was established in March 1961, by the Adjutant General of Florida. Since its establishment, the school has become the primary source for officer procurement for the Florida Army National Guard. In January 1968, a sixteen-man augmentation to the Table of Organization for State Headquarters Detachment was authorized, with the primary mission of operating the Officer Candidate School. Numbers of candidates attending Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School, and graduates, are as shown below:

Class	Enrolled	Graduated
1962	49	24
1963	79	45
1964	118	61
1965	89	53
1966	127	79
1967	126	69
1968	96	54
1969	51	26

At present over sixty percent (60%) of the company grade officers in the Florida Army National Guard are graduates of the school.

The mission of the Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School is to provide effective instruction for Officer Candidates, qualifying them in the military educational requirements for appointment as second lieutenants in the Florida National Guard; and to develop maximum leadership and command ability in the candidate.

Successful completion of the Florida National Guard Officer Candidate Course encompasses a full year of study and training, starting with a two (2) week training period the first summer, followed by twelve (12) week-end training assemblies during the fall, winter and spring months and is completed at a second two week training period the second summer. The subject matter taught is closely parallel to the resident Infantry Officer Candidates Course at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Graduating candidates are appointed second lieutenants in the Army National Guard and Reserve of the Army of the United States. The Florida National Guard Officer Candidate School is the primary source of junior officers for the Florida Army National Guard. All examinations are graded by the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia. Methods of leadership development include rigid discipline, high standards of deportment and conduct, and exacting manner of performance, frequent and effective counseling, and continuous observation, correction and evaluation. The school is accredited by the Department of the Army and is inspected yearly by the Inspector General of the Third United States Army to determine the manner of performance. Over an eight year period the school has received seven Superior and one Excellent ratings.

ACTIVE STATE DUTY

Under the provisions of Military Code, Chapter 250, Florida Statutes, troops of the Florida National Guard were called to active state duty to assist civil authorities during 1969 as follows:

Dade City--Civil Disturbance--25-26 April 1969

Twenty-one officers and men on duty during threatened demonstration at St. Leo College during visit of Secretary of Defense, Melvin T. Laird. An early show of force by area law enforcement personnel averted any major confrontation.

Florida Panhandle--Hurricane Camille--16-18 August 1969

Three enlisted men used to position mobile communications van in the panhandle area during period that Hurricane Camille was forecast to hit the Florida coast.

Fort Lauderdale--Civil Disturbance--31 August-4 September 1969

Two hundred ninety-three officers and men in support of law enforcement agencies during a civil disturbance resulting from the arrest of a Negro drag racer during which a Negro woman was shot by someone in the crowd.

Tallahassee Area--Flooding--22-23 September 1969

West Palm Beach--Music Festival--27-30 November 1969

Three hundred eighty officers and men on standby to assist law enforcement agencies during a pop music festival held across highway from Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corporation. The expected influx of hippies, dope addicts and peddlers and other undesirables had the potential of causing a disturbance beyond the capability of local law enforcement. Troops remained at three (3) armories adjacent to area in a ready status. The limited access routes and congested conditions demanded immediate response which was available in the form of five (5) troop carrying helicopters procured from Army with crews. Troops were moved from armory only once but mission was canceled upon arrival at the scene. Close liaison was maintained with the sheriff's forces.

Miscellaneous

National Guard personnel were in an alert status or used for liaison during many events throughout the year without being placed in an active state duty status.

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENTS

Special assignments have been performed by Florida National Guard troops in support of community, state and national activities. This duty is on a voluntary basis. These assignments are generally performed during non-duty hours, weekends and holidays.

Among these assignments were the annual celebration of Armed Forces Day, Memorial Day and Veterans Day throughout the State, as well as the Gasparilla Festival in Tampa and the Orange Bowl in Miami.

The Florida National Guard in cooperation with the State of Florida, Department of Community Affairs, and the State of Florida, Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, conducted free medical health screening examinations for poverty stricken individuals in Jacksonville and Tampa. On 12-13 April 1969 a total of 101 individuals were examined in Jacksonville. Guardsmen from the Florida Air National Guard's 125th USAF Dispensary aided in this examination. Similar free medical health screening examinations were conducted in Tampa on 1-2 November 1969. A total of eighty-three (83) individuals were examined. Guardsmen from Medical Section, Headquarters, 53rd Infantry Brigade and Company B (Medical), 53rd Support Battalion aided in this examination.

ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

STRENGTH

The Florida Army National Guard entered fiscal year 1969 with an authorized strength of 8,043 with a reduction in manning level to 7,786. During the fiscal year, the state manning level was raised to 7,863 and is the current maximum Army National Guard strength.

The strength of the Florida Army National Guard for this period has averaged slightly over 100 percent of the unit manning level. This is attributed to a continued recruiting program to replace the normal attrition while still maintaining a realistic program to absorb the overstrength created by the 20 January 1968 reorganization. The status of the 1968 overstrength of officers is as follows:

	COL	LTC	MAJ	CPT	1LT	2LT	Total	WO
20 Jan 68	3	14	18	13	7	28	83	27
30 Jun 69	1	4	6	8	4	7	30	18

It is anticipated that the remaining overstrength will be absorbed by normal attrition prior to expiration of the three year authorized retention period with the exception of some warrant officers who are National Guard technicians. Some overstrength was experienced in the enlisted field in certain geographical areas, however, except for possible isolated cases, all excess enlisted personnel will be absorbed prior to the end of the three year period.

RESERVE OFFICER PERSONNEL ACT OF 1954

During the period 1 July 1968 - 30 June 1969, the Reserve Officer Personnel Act of 1954 (ROPA) remained unchanged insofar as the provisions for mandatory elimination and mandatory promotion consideration were concerned. However, the provision of conducting First Lieutenant Promotion Board at State level was changed on the recommendation of the Hollingsworth Board and hereafter will be conducted at the respective Army headquarters. The Captain, Major, and Lieutenant Colonel Boards remain at the Department of the Army, Washington, D. C.

During this period, 48 officers were considered for mandatory promotion with 29 being selected or 60 percent selection rate. Breakdown of consideration is as follows:

	1LTs	CPTs	MAJs	TOTAL
CONSIDERED:
1st Consideration	6	21	12	39
2nd Consideration	1	7	1	9
Total	7	28	13	48
SELECTED AFTER:
1st Consideration	2	8	12	22
2nd Consideration	1	5	1	7
Total	3	13	13	29

	1LTs	CPTs	MAJs	TOTAL
FAILED OF SELECTION:
1st Time	4	13	0	17
2nd Time	0	2	0	2
Total	4	15	0	19

This increase in selection rate reflects the results of emphasis placed on the officer's performance as reflected by Officer Efficiency Reports (DA Form 67-6) and the importance of early completion of military educational requirements by all officers. As a result of the officer overstrength generated by the 1968 reorganization, it was again necessary that the majority of officers selected for mandatory promotion decline their promotion for the authorized three year period. Due to the backlog of declinations generated by this overstrength, the requirement for declinations will remain for several years to come. A new regulation, resulting from the Hollingsworth Board now limits a declination to two years and further decreases the declination to one year effective 1 July 1971. Implementation of a Selection Board by the Adjutant General of Florida to select those officers with promotion potential in the Florida Army National Guard together with the reduced declination period will have a marked effect on the number of officers required and/or permitted to decline promotions and continue to serve in the Florida Army National Guard.

FLORIDA ARMY NATIONAL GUARD FIELD GRADE OFFICER SELECTION BOARD

The Florida Army National Guard Field Grade Officer Selection Board, established in October 1963, continued to function during calendar year 1969. The Board is composed of the Assistant Adjutant General-President; Deputy Commander, Emergency Operation Headquarters; Commanding General, 53d Infantry Brigade; Commanding Officers of 53d Signal Group and 164th Artillery Group as members; and a recorder from the Department of Military Affairs, without vote. The Selection Board meets at the call of the President and selects officers for assignment to field grade vacancies as they occur. During this report period, primary consideration has been to the reassignment of excess officers. The Board has been able to make some selections to the next higher grade in certain technical positions and geographical areas. This is primarily due to the excellent progress that has been made in absorbing excess officers.

ARMY NATIONAL GUARD TRAINING

Training of the Florida Army National Guard is based on criteria prescribed by the United States Continental Army Command, in coordination with the National Guard Bureau. The Commanding General, Third United States Army is charged with the responsibility of coordination, support and supervision of prescribed training. Standards for training are established by Department of the Army and unit performance is evaluated annually during the active duty (field training) period by a Board of Active Army officers.

There are four phases of training: Basic Combat Training and Advanced Individual Training for development of basic skills and techniques, culminating in the assignment of Military Occupational Specialties (MOS) to individuals commensurate with the type training received and which denotes qualifications to perform the duties of a particular job assignment; Basic Unit Training, conducted by all units in accordance with the Army Training Program (ATP) appropriate to each type unit, to develop effective, well coordinated section, teams and small units, composed of those members having acquired the skills and techniques as noted above during the Advanced Individual Training Phase; and finally, the Advanced Unit Training Phase which, is designed to provide practice in the employment of unit techniques, to develop unit operating procedures, and to furnish command and staff training in the conduct of combined arms training.

Training year 1969 was one of the most challenging for units of the Florida Army National Guard. As mentioned in the preceding report, the majority of Florida units were redesignated or converted from one branch to another in 1968, which meant an entire retraining program. The professional approach to this mammoth training problem taken by all commanders, provided the necessary motivation for all units to undertake the required Army Training Program with such expertise that all units were sufficiently trained to undergo an active Army training test during annual field training 1969.

During the first part of 1969, an accelerated training program was conducted by all units of the Florida Army National Guard. The purpose was twofold: one, to qualify personnel in their newly acquired military occupational specialty, and two, provide effective training to prepare units for active Army training tests. The results of this training was most gratifying in that praise was received from the Third U. S. Army Commander as well as from members of the Department of the Army Staff. The impact of training results was fully realized upon completion of annual field training when evaluation reports prepared by active Army evaluators indicated that all Florida Army National Guard units had achieved, through effective military training, the readiness objectives established by the Department of the Army.

Upon completion of annual field training 1969, a realignment of the Florida Army National Guard was implemented. Effective on 1 July 1969, the Emergency Operation Headquarters was designated as the headquarters for all non-Brigade elements and the 53rd Infantry Brigade was assigned as headquarters for all Brigade elements. Previously the Emergency Operation Headquarters had been the field headquarters for all Florida Army National Guard units, this responsibility reverted to the Adjutant General upon realignment with the Commanding Generals, 53rd Infantry Brigade and Emergency Operation Headquarters reporting direct to the Adjutant General.

Immediately after the realignment all units of the Florida Army National Guard were directed to undergo a highly intensified training program during the fall of 1969 and early 1970, to prepare for higher level Army training tests to be administered during annual field training 1970.

INITIAL ACTIVE DUTY FOR TRAINING PROGRAM

The Reserve Enlistment Program of 1963 (REP-63) continued during the period of this report. This program required as a condition for enlistment, a nonprior service individual to enter within 120 days of his enlistment, on active duty for a minimum period of four months to receive basic and MOS training. Maximum active duty time is determined by time required to train the individual in his assigned MOS.

During this year, sufficient quotas have been furnished by Department of the Army to preclude any backlogs from occurring. Except for unusual circumstances, nonprior service enlistees are entering initial active duty for training within 60 to 120 days after enlistment.

A total of 759 trainees entered initial active duty for training during this period with 586 having completed their training and returned to their National Guard unit.

SCHOOL PROGRAM

The School Program, supported mainly from Federal funds, establishes a vehicle for the branch and technical training of personnel, whereby they may qualify themselves for their unit TOE/TDA assignments and receive required advance training in critical Military Occupational Specialities.

It is through the media of the Army Service and Army Area School Programs, by attendance at advance courses of instruction and refresher training, together with Specialized Training Conferences and Exercises, that officers and enlisted personnel maintain their proficiency in the areas of combat arms, technical and administrative fields.

During calendar year 1969, a total of 109 officers and 34 enlisted personnel participated in the Army Service School Program, 36 officers and 19 enlisted personnel in the Army Area School Program, and 106 officers and 183 enlisted personnel were afforded the opportunity to participate in Specialized Training Courses and Command Post Exercises.

ENLISTED EVALUATION SYSTEM

The Enlisted Evaluation System is a method of testing individuals in their assigned Military Occupation Specialty (MOS). This program has been in effect for the Army National Guard since April 1964.

Each year regulations have been updated placing more emphasis on a high academic achievement for these tests. Regulations have prescribed that failing scores will lead to reassignment, reduction, and/or separation. Current regulations updated in May 1969 require in addition to a passing score of 70 for retention purposes, that a minimum score of 110 be achieved to permit promotion to a higher grade. Waivers by the Adjutant General are currently authorized to permit promotion with minimum score of 80 with a graduated increase requirement over a 3 year period to achieve the 110 score.

During the fiscal year of this report, four test periods were conducted, during which a total of 2,915 individuals were evaluated.

Test results continue to reflect enlisted personnel of Florida compare favorably with enlisted personnel of the overall National Guard and the Active Force.

FEDERAL FUNDS AND EQUIPMENT

The Florida Army National Guard continues to be better equipped than in previous years. This is due primarily to the updating of equipment and the funds being made available to the State of Florida by the Federal government.

The "Selected Reserve Forces" program referred to in the 1965-1966 and 1967-1968 Adjutant General's Report is no longer in existence. The program, having served its purpose, was discontinued by the Department of Defense.

"Military Support of Civil Authorities" program referred to in the 1967-1968 Adjutant General's Report is still in existence. The funding program and additional equipment made available by the Federal government to the State of Florida continues to increase each fiscal year.

The utilization of Camp Blanding, Florida, as an annual field training site for National Guardsmen, not only from the State of Florida but from other states, has increased the funding received from the Federal government to support the site. Utilization of Camp Blanding in future years as a training site should improve the facilities as Federal funds are increased.

There are 464 full-time employees authorized for the Florida Army National Guard state-wide who are paid from Federal funds. During fiscal year 1969 Federal funds expended in direct support of the Florida Army National Guard totaled $11,420,987.27. At the close of fiscal year 1969 the value of Army equipment and supplies on hand in the state totaled $26,467,668.47.

MAINTENANCE OF FEDERAL PROPERTY

The maintenance of Federal property is accomplished in two general categories. Organizational (user and unit) maintenance is accomplished as a part of military training within the organization. Support maintenance is accomplished at fixed installations, manned by full-time technicians, at Camp Blanding and Craig Field, Jacksonville. The Combined Support Maintenance Shop and Annual Field Training Equipment Pool are located at Camp Blanding; the Army Aviation Support Facility Command is located at Craig Field, Jacksonville.

On 1 November 1969 the Army Aviation Maintenance Shop was moved from Imeson Airport to Craig Field thus permitting the consolidation of the armory, hangar and organizational maintenance shop into one operation, one of the most modern and complete Army aviation complexes in the nation.

The newly authorized Annual Field Training Equipment Pool Shop performs organizational maintenance on 64 guns, self-propelled, twin 40mm (Air Defense Artillery), for use by National Guard Air Defense Artillery units in the Third United States Army area.

The Army Aviation Support Facility Command, formerly Flight Activity Command, supervises the training, administration and logistical support of all aviation units in the Florida Army National Guard; performs organizational, direct support and when authorized general support maintenance on assigned Army aircraft; and, performs initial check-out procedure with new aviators and conducts standardization flights with assigned aviators.

When employing maintenance technicians, only the best qualified are selected. In order to keep abreast of the latest techniques and ever increasing complexity of equipment, attendance at service schools and manufacturer's courses of instruction are encouraged.

Aircraft Maintenance

Approximately twenty (20) Army technicians perform maintenance on the unit aircraft which includes, one U-1A, four U-6A, three O-1A, six OH-23B, seven TH-13M and one 1CA1 Flight Simulator.

Approximately 11,000 flying hours were utilized for proficiency and support missions by assigned aviators during calendar year 1969.

AIR NATIONAL GUARD

AIR NATIONAL GUARD OPERATIONS AND AIR DEFENSE COMMAND ALERT PROGRAM

The Florida Air National Guard continues to perform the aerospace defense of the southeastern United States. The alert force provides two aircraft on five minute alert duty and two additional aircraft on fifteen minute alert duty twenty-four hours per day, seven days per week. The alert commitment plus the daily training requirements keep over half of the fighter pilots in the squadron on active Air Force duty each day. This outstanding participation is even more significant considering many aircrew members are engaged in full time employment in the greater Jacksonville area.

The 125th Fighter Group deployed to Puerto Rico during the reporting period. This deployment was accomplished to release the Puerto Rico Squadron which conducted training exercises in the continental United States. The assumption of this mission required the 125th Fighter Group to deploy fourteen pilots, twenty-eight enlisted men, and six aircraft (F-102) which provided the unit with an opportunity to test its dispersal plan. In addition to the Puerto Rico deployment, the 125th Fighter Group supported the regular Air Force by providing four rated officers who assumed the alert duties in Europe during 1969. Two tours of duty were six months in duration and the other two tours were three months in duration. The Air Force commanders were elated with the relief provided by the Florida Air National Guard. The project was named Palace Alert.

A significant realignment of the Aerospace Defense Command took place during the latter part of 1969. The 32d Air Division at Gunter Air Force Base, Alabama, and the 1st Air Force at Stewart Air Force Base, New York, were deactivated on 14 November 1969. Operational control of the 125th Fighter Group was assigned to the 20th NORAD Region at Fort Lee, Virginia.

Aircraft with aircrews and all required maintenance personnel were deployed to Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida during May 1969. During this deployment, eight aircraft and their systems were evaluated in a special project which tested F-102 weapons systems against Firebee drone targets. Ten pilots and thirty-six maintenance personnel were utilized during this deployment.

During 1969, twenty-one tactical aircrews of the 125th Fighter Group successfully completed the ADC Life Support Training refresher course at Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida. This course included refresher training in parachute drops into water and helicopter pickup.

The 125th Fighter Group underwent two formal inspections during 1969, an IG Inspection and a Safety Inspection. Both were completed with satisfactory ratings.

In addition to normal aircrew functions, the 125th Fighter Group provided personnel for the following special activities:

a. F-102 aircrews for ferrying F-102 aircraft from Holland to the United States.

b. F-102 aircrews for Project Coronet East - Ferrying F-102 aircraft to Turkey.

c. Four F-102 aircrews to augment NORAD Alert Forces at Homestead Air Force Base, Fla.

d. The 125th Fighter Group provided aircrews for fly-over during retirement ceremonies at Washington, D. C. for General Joseph P. McConnell, Air Force Chief of Staff.

The most significant change during 1969 was the replacement of aircraft for the first time in nine years. The 125th Fighter Group received eighteen F-102's (Configuration 8) aircraft in November and transferred the other aircraft to the storage area in Arizona. This change of aircraft updated the weapons system and increased the combat potential of the Florida Air National Guard.

PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT

During the year 1969, personnel management required special emphasis in the area of computer mechanization. The Personnel Data System, Officer/Airman (PDS O/A), underwent a major expansion. The data contained in the system was vastly expanded requiring a major effort for full implementation. This in turn caused minor changes in the Computerized Air Reserve Pay and Allowance System (ARPAS). Benefits derived from this expansion, in addition to a more comprehensive pay system, included deletion of several time consuming manually prepared recurring reports. Generally, the overall management program produced effective utilization of resources in accomplishing mission goals. Direction of General Military Training, On-the-Job Training, Disaster Preparedness Training, Riot Control Training, plus various training exercises and at the same time insuring accomplishment of normal duties and training requirements continued to require attention.

The largest and most complex personnel management operation occurred during the year. It consisted of conversion to and implementation of Public Law 90-486, making technicians Federal Civil Service employees on 1 January 1969. The paperwork required to accomplish the conversion was staggering and the drastic change in personnel management concepts was by far the most challenging to implement. Managers at all levels, Personnel Specialists and, in fact, all technicians were required to more or less self-educate themselves on the many complex facets of Civil Service Rules and Regulations such as Merit Promotion Plans, Reduction in Force Plans, Retirement and Benefits, Efficiency Ratings and Employee Organizations. This self education continued throughout the year and will probably continue for some time to come.

SCHOOL TRAINING

Policies established by higher headquarters require that all non-prior service enlistees complete a minimum of four months active duty subsequent to enlistment. This training consists of six weeks Basic Military Training (BMT) with subsequent entry into an Air Force technical school. In a small percentage of cases, this training consists of the BMT only with a period of On-the-Job Training (OJT) at the home station or at some nearby Air Force base. A recent directive from the National Guard Bureau requires that trainees undergoing OJT after BMT qualify for their three-level specialty prior to release from active duty training (ACDUTRA). This may require longer than the four months minimum training period.

In addition to the school training for non-prior service airmen, other types of formal training are available to members of the Florida Air National Guard, such as, advanced training courses, lateral training courses, special training, and by field and mobile training detachments.

During 1969 an increase in attendance at the Air National Guard Non-Commissioned Officer Academy was noted. One non-commissioned officer attended Phase I, eight non-commissioned officers attended Phase II, and eight attended the full five and one-half week course. Four graduated with honors and two of the former were elected class speakers in their respective classes.

UNIT TRAINING

Unit training is conducted in accordance with directives published by the National Guard Bureau, Headquarters, United States Air Force, Aerospace Defense Command, and by local directives. The heart of the unit training program is On-the-Job Training (OJT). The OJT program of the Florida Air National Guard continued to progress at a satisfactory rate during the past year, having only a few airmen in the unit becoming delinquent in their training.

OJT Trainer-Supervisor classes were scheduled and conducted by a highly qualified United States Air Force instructor in 1969. These classes are designed to acquaint supervisory personnel and trainers with classification, assignment, training methods and upgrading procedures. Practically all personnel who are involved in administering an OJT program or who have the responsibility of actually conducting OJT have attended this course in past years.

The Dual-Channel concept of conducting OJT is still as effective as it has been in the past. Career Development Courses have been prepared on all career fields authorized in the Florida Air National Guard, except the medical field which has about one-half available.

FIELD TRAINING

All units of the Florida Air National Guard have continued to conduct year-round field training. Emphasis has been placed on achieving and maintaining the highest possible state of operational readiness and increasing the proficiency of each individual. Objectives of this training plan have been to:

- a. Increase daily support capability in accomplishment of the local and Aerospace Defense Command mission.
- b. Improve utilization of field training manpower by programming against actual work requirements.
- c. Improve individual proficiency training through reduction of supervisor to trainee ratio and increase actual job performance in normal duty Air Force Specialty Codes.

d. Through closer supervision, planning and training, qualify personnel by a vigorous OJT and classroom training program in their specialty.

e. Obtain more useful work from personnel as the direct product of their OJT, and reduction of trainees on hand to be supervised at a given time.

f. Increase participation by commanders, staff officers, and supervisors by increasing planning and supervisory responsibilities for daily operation of the unit.

g. Attain a closer daily working relationship between the Air technicians and military personnel with increased emphasis on military direction and supervision.

h. Improve Air National Guard--employer relations by allowing large organizations that have several employees who are Guardsmen to schedule their field training at various periods.

The majority of Air Guardsmen attend field training at the Air National Guard Base in Jacksonville, Florida. However, in some cases, it has been found advisable to send certain sections to nearby Air Force bases. For example, medical, dental and security police personnel were scheduled for their field training at Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida, for 1969. By doing this, these sections were able to obtain broader experience for trainees in their specialty.

FEDERAL FUNDS AND EQUIPMENT

The mission of the Florida Air National Guard is such that it must be operationally ready for combat at all times. To insure the maximum in readiness, the Federal government provides funds and equipment for the Florida Air National Guard on a level closely paralleling the active Air Force. An average of 200 full time Federally supported technicians are employed at the Air National Guard Base in Jacksonville. These technicians, representing about 25% of the overall strength of the Florida Air Guard, are specialists in the fields of command, administration, finance, accounting, supply and maintenance.

During calendar year 1969, Federal funds in the amount of $8,864,983.74 were expended in support of the Florida Air National Guard. This represents an increase of $1,506,393.60 over expenditures for the previous fiscal year. The value of military equipment in use has increased by $518,407.58 to $33,016,799.59. This increase was due to the construction of new facilities.

The F-102A aircraft, with which the Florida Air National Guard is currently equipped, is an expensive weapon system to operate. Cash purchases of supplies and services in the Jacksonville area in support of this aircraft during calendar year 1969 totaled $8,788.64, while purchase orders and delivery orders on local business concerns totaled $86,500.14. Local transportation companies received $8,035.49 for movement of material from Jacksonville to various points in the nation. Cross Service Agreements with other military activities in the Jacksonville area resulted in services to the Florida Air National Guard valued at $3,600.00. The Federal funds paid to Florida business concerns, together with the $2,794,573.71 paid in salaries during this period, represents spending of considerable value to the State of Florida and its citizens.

The warehouse inventory of 6,800 active items leveled at $3,683,943.59. There was an average of 5,560 monthly transactions for a dollar value of $668,211.00. These two figures indicate an efficient inventory control system that is well within the limits prescribed by the active Air Force. The aircraft fuel section issued fuel and petroleum products during this period that were valued at $368,330.84.

The supply system has remained basically the same during this period with only a few minor changes, therefore, good support was afforded to all units.

MAINTENANCE

During the past year, an average of 122 personnel were employed by the Air Technician Detachment of the Florida Air National Guard to perform maintenance on unit aircraft which included eighteen F-102's, two T-33's and one C-54. Maintenance personnel are responsible for performance of all organizational maintenance and much of the field maintenance on both the primary mission and support mission aircraft, missiles and associated test equipment, ground power equipment, all motor vehicles, including crash and firefighting equipment, the flight simulator, and the base communications system.

Maintenance proficiency on assigned aircraft is at an all time high. This has resulted due to the continued thorough training programs and the fact that we have had the F-102 as our primary mission aircraft for over nine years. During this nine-year period, approximately 45,000 hours of F-102 flying time has been logged.

During 1969, approximately 4,800 hours were flown in our primary mission aircraft, the F-102. Approximately 400 additional hours were flown in the T-33 and an additional 400 hours were flown in our C-54 aircraft. An incommision rate of slightly more than 74% was maintained throughout the year.

During November of 1969, the 125th Fighter Group was re-equipped with a later model improved version of the F-102A. This aircraft is capable of improved low altitude intercept operations and has an improved weapons capability. However, due to a number of outstanding Time Compliance Technical Orders (TCTO's) on each aircraft and some system changes, a large work load is anticipated for maintenance personnel. Due to our coastal location, we experienced a great deal of additional corrosion control maintenance on aircraft previously assigned. This problem has been alleviated to a great extent since our newly assigned aircraft are virtually corrosion free. To facilitate check-out of radar maintenance personnel on one of the new systems on this aircraft, five specialists received two weeks of training on the new infra-red detection system at Tyndall Air Froce Base, Florida.

DIVISION EXERCISES

During the course of any one year, on numerous occasions we are called upon to assist various Air Force units and Air Divisions by supporting exercises with target and/or interceptor aircraft. Our parent Air Division has commended this unit many times for the support furnished during these around-the-clock operations. Following one such recent exercise, the maintenance section was the recipient of a special 32nd Air Division Certificate for maintaining data link equipment in an outstanding manner. This was a result of no prime data link sorties being unsuccessful due to airborne equipment, and no airborne equipment failures during the period covered by the award.

INSPECTIONS

We received a Satisfactory rating from the Inspector General during our annual inspection in January 1969. A recent Safety Survey Inspection was conducted by personnel from 1st Air Force. Our unit missile and explosive safety program was rated Outstanding. The report stated that command support of the safety program was unquestionably evident in every area visited.

BASE ALERT NOTIFICATION AND COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEMS

A complete new base alert notification system has been designed and installed by personnel assigned to this unit. This system provides voice communication with all base areas from the command post and/or the alternate command post during emergencies. The maintenance communications system provides voice communication from the centrally located maintenance control section to all base maintenance shops; to operations and to security areas. This allows maintenance control to monitor maintenance in progress and direct specialists to work assignments.

AIR DEFENSE COMMAND ALERT

The maintenance section provides support for the 24 hour Air Defense Command alert commitment with ready maintenance crews and aircraft. Weapons loading crews are available for necessary loading and unloading of aircraft on a continuing basis.

TYNDALL DEPLOYMENT

During March 1969, eight aircraft, ten pilots and thirty-six maintenance support personnel were sent on temporary duty to Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida. The purpose of this deployment was to evaluate the F-102 weapons system and aircrews in actual firing of missiles against the Firebee radio controlled drone targets. The high success rate at deployments such as this is a tribute to the high degree of skill displayed by both pilots and maintenance personnel.

PUERTO RICO DEPLOYMENT

During June 1969, for the second consecutive year fourteen pilots, twenty-eight maintenance support personnel, and six aircraft were deployed to San Juan, Puerto Rico, to assume the air defense commitment at that location. This deployment was requested by the National Guard Bureau in order to insure air defense coverage for this area while the Puerto Rico Air National Guard unit performed gunnery practice during field training at Travis Air National Guard Base, Savannah, Georgia. The deployment required movement of approximately fifty tons of support equipment on C-124 aircraft furnished by the Georgia Air National Guard. Again, no major aircraft problems occurred during the deployment and the entire operation was so successful that the National Guard Bureau requested formulation of plans for a similar deployment next year.

FLORIDA AIR NATIONAL GUARD AERO CLUB, INC.

In early 1961, the Florida Air National Guard Aero Club was formed and received its charter from the State of Florida. This charter authorized incorporation of the Florida Air National Guard Aero Club as a non-profit entity of the Florida Air National Guard. The first aircraft owned by the club was a J-3 Piper Cub which many members used in learning to fly. The club now has sixty members, and owns two four-place Piper Cherokee aircraft and one two-place (tandem) Champion Citabria which is fully aerobatic. This club was formed to give maintenance, supply, administrative, and other support personnel a better understanding of pilot functions. It has also proven to be a very good retention tool, as many members of the Florida Air National Guard Aero Club have reenlisted in the Florida Air National Guard to remain eligible for membership in this club.

AIR NATIONAL GUARD BASE

Since the unit moved to its new, larger base fourteen months ago, the operations and maintenance expenditures have increased by 50% and the maintenance force has been increased by four personnel.

During this period several Air National Guard units, based in other parts of the United States, have requested and been forwarded, copies of plans for one or more of the facilities constructed for the Florida Air National Guard to use as a guide for their modification and/or expansion programs.

Currently, there are three paving projects programmed. These are: Liquid Oxygen (LOX) Storage, Fuel Truck Parking Area, and Base Supply Warehouse Exterior Storage. The estimated cost of the projects is $28,000.00. In addition, a 600 square foot Aircraft Corrosion Control Building is planned for in the immediate future at an estimated cost of $24,750.00 and vehicle parking area lighting at an estimated cost of $14,000.00. Long range planning to date includes the construction of two taxiways and installation of curbing with a total expenditure estimated at $110,170.00.

The increased maintenance and construction demanded by this modern facility has made and will continue to make a positive contribution in the growth of the local community.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

During the year 1969, the Information Office of the Florida Air National Guard continued its policy of allowing the news media as much access as security would allow to stories of interest within the 125th Fighter Group. Stories falling within the general interest category were given to the Jacksonville area news organizations - including the wire services.

Special items of interest were: Dedication of the new $5.1 million dollar base at Jacksonville International Airport; selection of SSGT William H. Ruby, Sr. as one of the "Top Five" Outstanding Airmen in the Air National Guard; the World Champion New York Jets football team tour of the Air Base; donation of a console color television set to the Hope Haven Children's Hospital by the NCO Club; and, presentation of the Air Medal to First Lieutenant Harry Hoover for his accomplishments while serving in Viet Nam and Thailand.

Additionally, the Florida Air National Guard Chorus under the direction of Chaplain Major Keith Hill produced a thirty-minute television program of selected hymns and religious readings for television station WFGA. The program was videotaped and shown as part of the station's "Together We Worship" series. Station personnel rated the program as one of the year's best and have videotaped it for repeat showings on later dates.

ADVISORS

ARMY

The primary mission of the US Army Advisor Group is to provide maximum advice and assistance to the units of the Florida National Guard in all phases of training, administration, maintenance and supply procedures to accomplish their mission of attaining and maintaining a high degree of operational readiness. The Senior Army Advisor, Colonel Rudolph Smith, is the liaison officer between the Adjutant General and the Commanding General, Third United States Army.

The Advisor Group is comprised of the Headquarters, Office of the Senior Army Advisor, located at the State Arsenal, St. Augustine, Florida, and four geographically designated Regional Advisor Commands located at Jacksonville, Tallahassee, Tampa and Miami. Within these regions are twenty-two Advisor Stations located throughout the State, fully staffed with professionally qualified officers and enlisted Advisors.

The Advisor Group is at 100% assigned strength representing a combined total of 1,067 years of military service. Eighty-four per cent of the Advisor personnel have seen service in Viet Nam.

AIR

The Department of the Air Force provides an officer as Air Advisor and a non-commissioned officer as Personnel Advisor to the Florida Air National Guard, with office at Headquarters, 125th Fighter Group.

During calendar year 1969 there was no officer Advisor assigned; Senior Master Sergeant Kenneth L. Galloway served as the non-commissioned Advisor.

Senior Master Sergeant Galloway has displayed the highest degree of military professionalism and technical competence and has given, without reservation, his personal time and efforts in administering the various Air National Guard programs. Under his capable guidance and assistance, the 125th Fighter Group has received very favorable evaluations in the personnel and administrative areas on recent IG Inspections. He has rendered excellent support in all areas of management of this unit.

In appreciation of outstanding job rendered by SGT Galloway, he has been awarded the State of Florida Distinguished Service Medal. He will be reassigned to Southeast Asia in January 1970.

NATIONAL GUARD OFFICERS ASSOCIATION OF FLORIDA

The National Guard Officers Association of Florida has been in existence since 1902. It consists of all officers and warrant officers of the Florida Army and Air National Guard. The organization is run on a democratic basis, with the officers elected by the membership. Committee meetings are held periodically during the year, and a general conference is convened annually at some location within the State. The purposes of the Association are to promote and improve adequate national security; to provide a medium by which all officers of the Florida National Guard may become better acquainted; to establish a foundation for promoting esprit de corps in the Florida National Guard; to promulgate and support legislation in furtherance of the best interests of the Florida National Guard; and to maintain an Association complementing and in harmony with the National Guard Association of the United States. The annual conferences consist of business sessions during the day with the social functions in the evening.

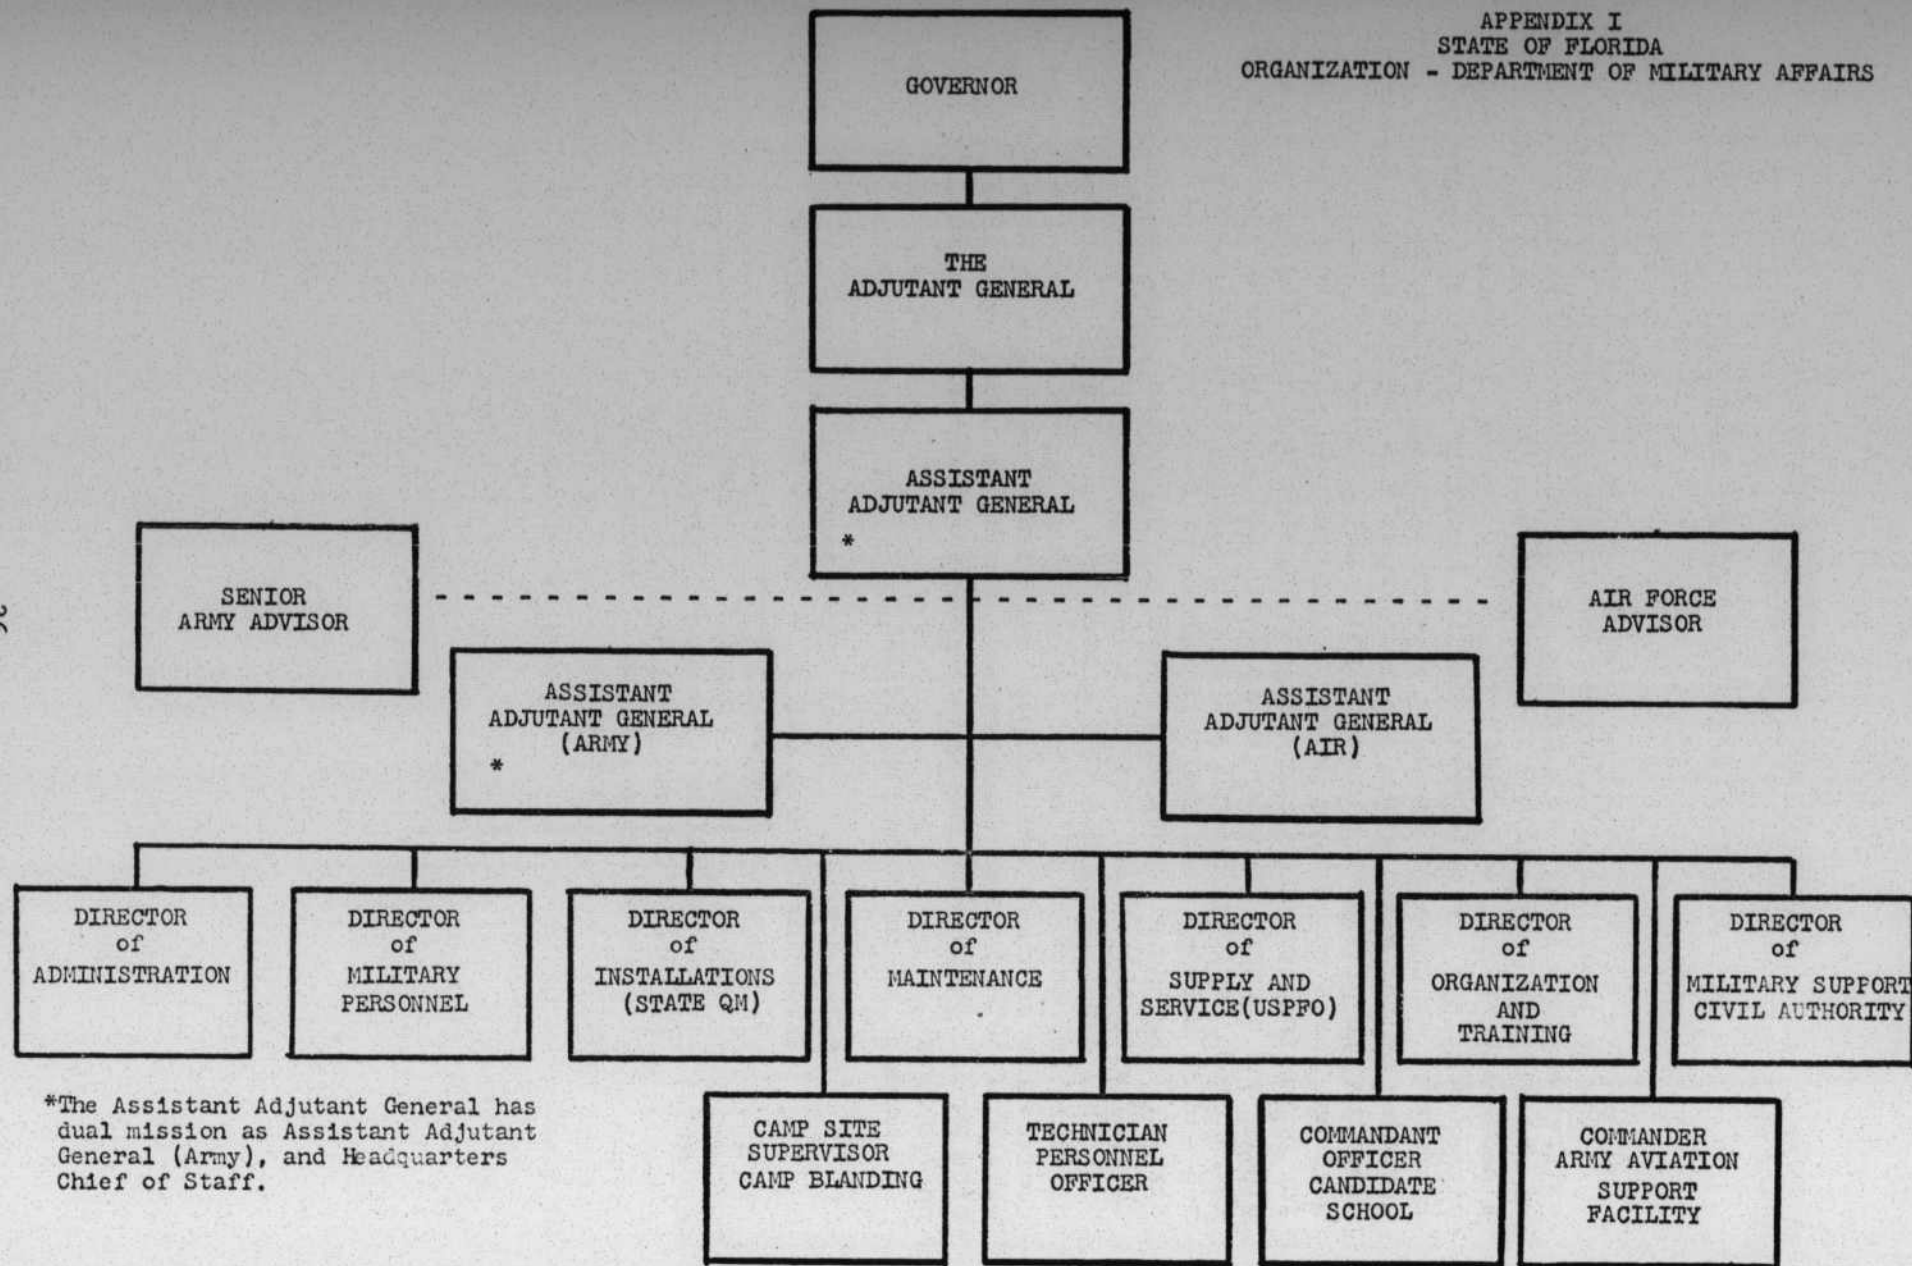

This Association has 100% membership of all active National Guard officers and warrant officers. Even though members attend the annual conferences at their own expense, attendance continues to average in excess of 50% at these conferences. During calendar year 1969, the 67th Annual Conference was held at the Robert Meyer Motor Inn, Orlando, on 7-8 March.
